ZHANG Xinsheng
AUSF President

Dear Friends,

In the beginning of year 2015, I would like to welcome the Sheep and bid farewell to the Horse.

2014 was a fruitful and colorful year to AUSF featuring 4 championships in 4 sports, a Seminar, a Steering Committee meeting, 2 Executive Committee meetings and the biennial General Assembly. The "Mega-event" strategy/module was continued in attracting public attention and encouraging participation. Two Mega-events were held in 2014. The first one was in Qingdao, China featuring the 3rd Asian University Beach Volleyball, the 2nd Asian University Golf Championship, an Executive Committee meeting and the General Assembly held in August. The second Mega-event was hosted by the Chinese Taipei University Sports Federation in November. The brand-name event of AUSF, the Asian University Men's Basketball Championship that was held in Chinese Taipei five times in a row in every two years was staged in New Taipei City together with a Seminar and an Executive Committee meeting. These events were well organized by the hosts and well received by the participants. To conclude the year 2014, we wish to congratulate the effort of the Asian University Sports Council (AUSC) in staging the 17th ASEAN University Games in Palembang, Indonesia in December with an attendance of 2500 students. This is a multi-sport event among university students in Southeast Asia held in every two years.

Affiliation of Iraq in General Assembly held in Qingdao has brought the membership of AUSF to a total of 36. It is noteworthy that the AUSF Education and Development Center was established to help the Education Committee in launching training programs. With the fast development of AUSF, members also realized that it was timely to review/update the Constitution. A working group was formed to mount on this project in late 2014.

I am very proud of the involvement of our members at different levels in FISU. In the current mandate, 8 FISU Executive Committee members came from Asia while 23 experts are serving in various Permanent Committees. In 2014, 7 out of some 30 World University Championships

(WUC) were hosted by AUSF members: Taekwondo (CHN), Floorball (SIN), Squash (IND), Shooting Sport (UAE), Woodball (MAS), Weightlifting (THA), and Speed Skating (KAZ). Amongst them, the championships in Singapore, India and Malaysia were the first FISU event organized in these countries respectively. I am really happy and excited to witness the growing involvement of Asian Countries in FISU. In 2016, 9 WUCs will be held in Asia and I am certain that more Asian countries will make a share in the global sports community in the short future. Sport is always an effective way to bring together people and nations together. Through organizing sports events at home and participation in overseas sports competitions, the encounter of values and wisdom of Asian cultures with the western culture would bring along positive impact to the entire world. When the encounter starts in university sports, the impact would be even more encouraging and exciting. Harmony and peace will be the result in the course of development in university sports.

Before I conclude my message, I expect all AUSF members to get ready for the forthcoming Universiades that will be hosted in Asia:

- 2015 Summer Universiade in Gwangju, Korea
- 2017 Winter Universiade in Almaty, Kazakhstan
- 2017 Summer Universiade in Taipei City, Chinese Taipei

Finally, I would like to thank FISU for her trust and support, other continental federations in sharing and exchange of experience, our partners for their cares and the commitment and involvement of AUSF members. With all these in place, I firmly believe that we would make a better 2015.

I wish all of you an excellent year in 2015 and look forward to meeting you at our upcoming events.

Claude-Louis GALLIEN
FISU President

Dear Friends,

It is a great pleasure for the president of FISU to present a friendly salute to all the Asian student-athletes, and express gratitude and consideration to the people who keep devoting themselves to the development of Asian University Sports. I feel particularly honoured to be invited to address you in this new issue of the yearly AUSF Magazine, which offers a brilliant overview of the 2014 various and fruitful activities of students' sport in Asia.

The Asian University Sports Federation (AUSF) is the governing body of university sport in the continent. Thirty six national and regional University Sport Organizations from five sub-regions are represented in terms of participation and organisation of sports and educational events, providing a unique platform for all university students in Asia to reach harmony by exchanging both their academic and sportsmanship experiences.

In 2014, AUSF organized 4 Asian University Championships, gathering together 330 participants from 16 university sport organizations. To conclude a very active sporting calendar, the 17th edition of the ASEAN University Games (AUG), a biennial sports event organized by the University Sport Council of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations, was staged in Palembang, Indonesia from 10-21 December, 2014. The games involved 2500 student-athletes competing in 18 sport events, representing the universities of 11 ASEAN member countries, including 7 AUSF member countries.

Beside its purely intracontinental activity, AUSF shows great dynamism and enthusiasm in the International University Sport movement.

AUSF members are currently strongly represented at all levels of power within FISU through the involvement of 8 members in the FISU Executive Committee, and 23 experts in the various FISU Permanent Committees of FISU.

1355 student-athletes (496 women and 859 males), and 556 officials from 26 AUSF members countries and regions have participated in the 28 FISU World University Championships (WUC) held in 2014, which represent 30% of total global participation of the FISU membership.

7 of those WUC have been organized in Asia by AUSF members: Taekwondo (CHN), Floorball (SIN), Squash (IND), Shooting Sport (UAE), Woodball (MAS), Weightlifting (THA), Speed Skating (KAZ); it must be mentioned that Singapore, India, the United Arab Emirates and Malaysia organized a WUC for the first time, reflecting the positive momentum developed within the AUSF.

The medium and long-term investment of the AUSF in organizing FISU international events is already acquired:

- In 2015 the Summer Universiade will be held in Gwangju (Korea);
- In 2016, 9 WUCs will be held in Asia;
- Chinese Taipei and Kazakhstan are already preparing respectively the 2017 Summer Universiade (Taipei) and the 2017 Winter (Almaty)...

...not to mention Mongolia, that has already expressed interest for the 2034 Summer Universiade 2034!

On 11 December 2014, just before I prepared this document, Mr Kenny Chow, the AUSF Secretary-General (and also FISU Assessor) made a presentation at the 2nd ASEAN University Sports Council International Conference, linked with the ASEAN University Games. It was the first time for AUSF to attend this conference. Mr Chow convinced various ASEAN member organisations to join AUSF and FISU, preparing new opportunities for Asian student-athletes to be part of the great FISU Family and participate in our sporting and educational activities, in Asia and in the whole world.

On behalf of FISU Executive Committee, I wish to pay tribute to all our good friends from AUSF, student-athletes, official and decision makers, with a special mention to AUSF President, Dr Xinsheng ZHANG, for their significant contribution to the promotion of university sport in Asia and the development of University Sport all over the world. It is clear that AUSF is a key partner for FISU and plays an essential role as a go-between with the associations of this vast and diverse continent.

1st Asian University Climbing Championship

For the first time, close to seventy climbers from leading universities across Asia, including China, Indonesia, Japan, Korea, Thailand and Singapore competed in Singapore in a week-long intense bouldering and lead climbing competition. Organized by the National University of Singapore (NUS) from 1 to 7 July 2014, it was endorsed by AUSF and supported by several partners including the IFSC Asian Climbing Council and Singapore Mountaineering Federation (National Sports Association for Climbing and aka SMF).

The competition was held in accordance to the International Federation of Sports Climbing (IFSC) rules and the Technical Committee comprised officials from regional countries. The Technical Delegate and Jury President were from Hong Kong and the two route setters, from Japan. Coincidentally, the Chief Judge appointed was Singaporean. As it was the inaugural edition, both the student and staff organizers had much to learn from the Technical Committee and SMF, both in the preparation and execution stages.

The climbers vied for the top three positions in four categories: Men's Bouldering, Women's Bouldering, Men's Lead Climbing, and Women's Lead Climbing. The lead climbing category was held at a newly built rockwall at NUS University Town. The bouldering part of the event, however, was held at Funan DigitalLife Mall, a complex in the heart of Singapore's business district. The boulder wall which was about 25m in length, 4.5m in height and 2.6m in width, was constructed in the middle of the Mall, attracting much attention and spectatorship.

Challenging routes were set by our Sport Climbing is fast growing as a popular sport at all levels of Singapore schools and the University had hoped that this inaugural edition would further raise its profile amongst the youths. And it did just that! The NUS climbers, at least, are certainly riding on the momentum and looking forward to the World University Climbing Championship in China and the ASEAN University Games in Singapore, both in 2016!

route setters, Mr Hiroshi Okano (Boulder) and Mr Hiramatsu Kousuke (Lead) and especially so at the finals, to sift out the top three climbers. Despite the tension and pressure, there was much interaction amongst the athletes not just within their country teams. All the athletes and officials stayed and dined at the same hotel on campus. They also had an opportunity to visit S.E.A. Aquarium Marine Life Park at Resorts World Sentosa as part of the social activity. The new friendships made were clearly seen at the Farewell Dinner when contacts were exchanged and many photos shared.

The labour-intensive competition also saw many volunteers helping out. Students from the NUS Climbing and Mountaineering Clubs were deployed as route judges, belayers and marshals. A number of alumni from these clubs came back to help out too.

On 23 August, the 8th AUSF General Assembly was held at the Huangdao District, Qingdao, China. Out of the 35 AUSF members, 22 participated in the meeting. Besides that, FISU First Vice-President Oleg MATYTSIN as the special representative of the FISU President, FISU Vice-President Stefan BERGH, EUSA Vice President as well FISU Vice President Leonz EDER, FASU President as well FISU Assessor M. Michael RALETTE and other FISU Assessors KIM Chong Yang, Verena BURK, Tai-Cheng

CHEN, Marian DYMALSKI and Laurent BRIEL from FISU Secretariat were also present at the meeting.

AUSF General Assembly was held every other year. According to the meeting Agenda, the reports from President, Secretary General, Treasurer, and Sub-regional Chairs were made. In his report, AUSF President ZHANG Xinheng expressed the gratitude to FISU for its support, as well as to the other fellow continental federations for attending the assembly. He also thanked AUSF members for their unflinching commitment and dedication, which led to the rapid growth of AUSF. In the report, he reiterated that AUSF should focus on exploring the core products and value, and strive to establish a closer link with National University Sports Federation, university leaders and students, local governments, sponsors as well as the media, who would comprise the five stakeholders of AUSF events. In his report, the Secretary-General Kenny Chow reviewed the achievement made in the last two years, including the conclusion of AUSF events, the set-up of Technical Committee, the nomination of Technical Delegates, etc. and reported the 2014-2015 calendars, encouraging the members to participate more actively. In the following, Treasurer SEETOW reported the current financial situation of AUSF and introduced the FISU guidance on Continental University Sports Federations (CUSF), which should be followed in submitting the projects.

During the General Assembly, 3 items made the meeting more productive, the set-up of AUSF Education and Development Center, the affiliation of Iraq as new AUSF member and the Constitution review. The center would be located in Capital University of Physical Education and Sports, aiming to strengthen the communication between AUSF and its members, to provide training for coaches, referees, administrators and to better promote the core values of AUSF. With Iraq's joining, the number of AUSF members was increased to 36. The review of AUSF Constitution would be launched and a task force would be set up to fulfill it. The Constitution was first approved in 2007. It is time to update it for better governing AUSF affairs.

The 1st Vice President of FISU, Oleg MATYTSIN in the name of the President Claude-Louis Gallien talked about the FISU and the importance of the AUSF for FISU. At the end of his speech he presented the FISU official plaques to AUSF President, Mr. ZHANG Xinheng, and also to the Vice President of FUSC, Mr. XUE Yanqing and to Muhamad Mohd Hanif, Secretary General of the ASEAN University Sports Council.

In the afternoon session, Stefan BERGH made a presentation on FISU, especially FISU's strategic guidance on CUSFs. He mentioned that in the past and next few years, several Universiades were and will be hosted in Asia, so are the championships and educational programmes. He thanked AUSF members for the contribution. He introduced FISU's strategic guidance on CUSFs, on how to establish and maintain the communication and social network, how to promote FISU and CUSF events, how to evaluate the events, etc., which will better connect FISU and CUSFs.

Considering the 2015 Summer Universiade and the 2017 Winter Universiade will be hosted in Asia by Gwangju of Korea and Almaty of Kazakhstan respectively, an opportunity was provided for the Organizing Committees to update their preparation. The meeting ended with the Presentation from Dankook University of Korea on the AUSF Intensive Training Programme scheduled from the end of 2015 to early January of 2016, which is the first training programme of AUSF.

3rd Asian University Beach Volleyball Championship & 2nd Asian University Golf Championship

From 22nd to 28th August 2014, the 3rd Asian University Beach Volleyball Championship and the 2nd Asian University Golf Championship were splendidly staged in the Huangdao district of Qingdao, China, which was the first Mega-event of this year. 21 men and women teams from 11 countries and regions participated in the 3rd Asian University Beach Volleyball Championship and 5 teams from 5 countries participated in the 2nd Asian University Golf Championship. Because the 8th AUSF General Assembly was hosted in the same period, the grand opening of these two championships was also witnessed by the meeting delegates from 22 countries, FISU guests and guests from other continental federations.

After 4-day fierce competition, for the beach volleyball championship, Thailand was the biggest winner, grabbing the gold medals for both men's and women's teams, the silver medal for the women's team and bronze medal for the men's team. Oman won the silver medal for the men's team, while the bronze medal for the women's team went to China. As for the golf Thailand won the first place for the women's team and men's team, the second place for women's individual and men's individual, and the third place for the women's individual. The third places for women's team and men's team were taken by China.

These 2 events were well organized, thanks to the Organizing Committee with 8 departments and nearly 50 staffs who guaranteed the smooth running of each aspect; thanks to the professional Technical Delegates,

Mr. Ruthnamudali (Technical Delegate of the 3rd Asian University Beach Volleyball Championship and Mr. PARK Young Min (Technical Delegate of the 2nd Asian University Golf Championship) whose expertise guaranteed the competition level of these 2 events; thanks to more than 200 volunteers, the college students from local universities, who can always be seen here and there, accompanying the teams or assisting the TDs and others, even under the strong sunshine; thanks to the players, who presented the most captivating matches through their best performance, which even attracted a lot of local people and some tourists.

After the competition, with the arrangement of the Organizing Committee, all the participants visited the famous attraction named Lang Ya Tai, where the first Chinese Emperor Qin Shihuang sent his team going abroad for the elixirs. Qin Shihuang was one of the greatest emperors in the Chinese history. He left us the Great Wall and the Terra Cotta Warriors, 2 of the 8 wonders of the world. There, the participants knew and experienced the Chinese cultures. The Organizing Committee even invited the head of the attraction to make the introduction. He carefully introduced the attraction, especially the stories related to it, so attractive and inviting.

During the farewell banquet held in the final day, Thailand team brought fantastic dance; Mongolian athletes showed their talent of singing and Chinese students performed a song depicting the valuable friendship, which pushing the farewell party to the climax and also pulled down the curtain of the championships.

28th Summer Universiade Gwangju 2015

In less than seven months until Gwangju takes the center stage, over 14,000 athletes, officials, and journalists from 170 countries all over the world will visit the "City of Light" for the duration of 12 days from July 3 to 14.

Monday December 15th marked another significant point in the build up to the Universiade Gwangju 2015, being exactly 200 days until the start of the games. While the big day is getting closer, the Gwangju 2015 Universiade Organizing Committee (GUOC) is getting ready to take its preparation to the next level by focusing on games-time operation. As all venue constructions are on time for completion by the end of March, Gwangju is well on track to delivering a lasting legacy for South Korea.

Operational Readiness

The GUOC is making the transition from the planning phase to operational readiness. The Venue Operation Plan (VOP), which is an operating manual for games-time, is under revision and includes operation plans for 41 competition areas and 31 non-competition areas. In order to prevent or control unexpected situations which might occur during the event, the GUOC has conducted on-site simulations every two weeks to improve the VOP since November. The GUOC will continue to update the VOP as the games-time gets closer and produce a final version by the end of 2014. Once the VOP is finalized, preparation for test events will be underway.

Test Events in Preparation for the Universiade

Test events provide the opportunity to exercise all operational procedures and to identify and resolve problems during games-time. The GUOC has held a comprehensive series of test events which include volleyball, baseball, judo, football, and handball. Gwangju will host 16 more test events starting from March to June 2015.

The Total Integration Management System (TIMS) will be up and running for the test events. Therefore, both competition areas and non-competition areas will be closely involved in hosting the events. The GUOC is planning to test out all of the functions and services before the Opening Ceremony in order to host a smooth Universiade.

Venue Preparation: Construction Nearly 80% Complete

Only 3 out of 70 venues will be newly built. The existing venues and facilities will be refurbished to meet the international sporting standards. 80% of the entire construction program is complete and right on track for the test events starting in March.

The Athletes' Village construction is almost 78% complete and is showing progress. The Village will accommodate over 14,000 athletes and officials and will incorporate a full range of conveniences and amenities during the game.

Gearing towards Delegation Services

As the Opening Ceremony of the Universiade Gwangju 2015 is approaching, the interaction between the GUOC and delegations are becoming more frequent and significant. Therefore, the GUOC is also gearing towards providing excellent delegation services.

The General Entry (G-Entry) registration has been open since November 2014 and the form should be submitted no later than December 31st 2014. Since the G-Entry is compulsory, the GUOC is giving regular reminders to encourage the delegations to participate in the Universiade and help complete the registration process.

The GUOC has been working hard to have as many athletes participate in the Universiade Gwangju 2015. As a result, Asiana Airlines, GUOC's global premium partner, will provide a 40% discount for athletes, officials and ITOs on all Asiana Airlines direct flights as well as additional baggage allowance.

In order to establish communication channels and provide as much information to all participating delegations, the GUOC is planning to host the Spring Heads of Delegation (HOD) Meeting from April 11 - 15. As one of the communication platforms, the Spring HOD Meeting will be an opportunity to showcase the Universiade Gwangju 2015 and provide information to delegations prior to the games. The HOD Meeting includes programs such as team draw, venue inspection, Q&A session, press conference, and GUOC and FISU presentation.

Delegations Services: from Arrival to Departure

The GUOC is preparing to take care of services from arrival to departure for all Universiade participants. The details of the plans will be finalized and the GUOC will be in operation mode in early 2015.

The official entry points to the Universiade Gwangju 2015 are Incheon International Airport, Gimpo International Airport, and Muan International Airport. The GUOC will provide assistance and transportation from the official entry points to the Athletes' Village.

When the majority of delegations arrive at Incheon International Airport, they will be taking the KTX (Korea Train Express) high-speed train for 2 hours and 40 minutes to Gwangju Songjung Station. There will be buses ready to pick up the delegates at Gwangju Songjung Station to transport them to the village.

The Athletes' Village will be open from June 26th to July 17th. The village will be divided in to the international zone and residential zone with which include a number of amenities for the delegation to enjoy.

Over the next seven months, Gwangju will be focused on delivering the most exciting sporting and cultural event ever to come Korea. The GUOC is already laying the groundwork for a lasting legacy so the youth around the world can fully embrace true sportsmanship and give their all at the Universiade Gwangju 2015.

Welcome to All - the 2017 Taipei Summer Universiade

Where there is a will, there is a way. After four unsuccessful bids, Taipei City's charm finally succeeded in winning the right to host the 2017 Summer Universiade. This will be the largest high-profile multi-sport extravaganza ever to be held in Chinese Taipei. Taipei City is working toward bringing all sports stadiums and facilities up to international standards. Excitement for the Games is gathering momentum, and we want to engage more people as the time draw near.

A total of 64 venues will be ready for competition, with each venue compliant with FISU regulations regarding environmental protection and conservation. We plan to establish long-lasting bonds of friendship with countries all around the world, promote peace and mutual respect and help make sports a part of everyday life.

Urban revitalization, public engagement and cultural exchange will boost Chinese Taipei's global standing. International exchange through sports will propel Taipei city to a higher echelon and introduce more people to this vibrant city - the pride and joy of Chinese Taipei!

A Free and Convenient Service

"Chinese Taipei has become the first place in the world to offer free wireless Internet access on a large scale to tourists", reported the UK's Daily Telegraph on 11 June 2013. A 14 February 2014 report entitled "The most convenient cities for wireless Internet access in the world" looked at Taipei, New York, Paris, Helsinki, Florence, Tel Aviv, Hong Kong, Macau and Perth and chose Taipei for the top spot.

A CNN report on 15 January 2014 listed the free Wi-Fi along with night markets, the National Palace Museum, National Health Insurance and dumplings among the ten features of Chinese Taipei that are the best in the world. Clearly, Taipei's development of free public wireless Internet access is having a very positive impact, making Taipei more attractive to tourists and business visitors as well as improving Chinese Taipei's international image. Visitors from overseas can apply for an account online or at a service counter, including various Taipei City visitor service centers and major hotels.

Bolstering Firefighting Ability – Optimizing Rescue Drills

To protect the safety of spectators

in venues and guests staying at hotels during the 2017 Universiade, Taipei City has upgraded the training of the fire prevention management personnel at a range of venues.

We have also stepped up fire rescue drills for firefighters in order to make Taipei a safe and friendly city for the 2017 Universiade. Fire alarm team training is carried out at the indoor venues every six months to maximize initial emergency response abilities. There are also annual reports on examinations of and repair to fire safety equipment, with the city fire department carrying out follow-up checks. Between 1 July and 31 December 2013, 2,480 venue staff members received fire alarm training.

To ensure the safety of hotel guests at Taipei's 436 registered hotels, checks on fire drills and fire safety equipment will be stepped up. From 1 July to 31 December 2013, a total of 6,437 hotel employees have received fire safety training and 1,393 fire safety equipment checks (and random checks) have been carried out. The city fire department will continue to work with hotels that do not yet meet the required standard until suitable improvements have been made.

Apart from improving fire safety equipment maintenance and autonomous personnel training at the various venues and spectator accommodation, we shall also formulate a fire prevention, rescue and warning system. Before the Games begin, venue operators, competition venue personnel and other bodies will come together to analyze examples of past emergencies at international sports competition and simulate various emergency scenarios. After carrying out disaster prevention and rescue drills at individual venues in the various administrative districts, we shall hold a city-wide disaster prevention and rescue drill to strengthen our overall disaster prevention and rescue capabilities.

Stand by "U"

Top-Quality Medical Services, the Best Support for Competitors, Taipei City has ample medical resources including seventeen emergency treatment hospitals. The University of Taipei's Tianmu Campus, home to the diving and basketball venues also located near the baseball venue, is within easy reach of Taipei Veterans' Hospital, Cheng Hsin General Hospital and Taipei City Hospital (Yangming Branch). The Athlete Health Management Center, set up by Taipei City Hospital, provides consultations with both Western and Chinese medicine doctors in order to provide comprehensive medical care for athletes.

Linkou Chang Gung Memorial Hospital is less than three kilometers from the Athletes' Village. It was recently featured in an in-depth report on the Discovery Channel under the heading "Taiwan Revealed: Body Reconstruction". It is the world's largest limb reconstruction center and is known as the "king of reconstructive microsurgery", indicating the advanced level of medical practice in Chinese Taipei. Its favorable location and excellent medical care provision make it an important pillar of medical services for the Athletes' Village.

Venues at a Glance

Taipei Sports Park includes Taipei Arena, Taipei Gymnasium and Taipei Stadium. It is located at a prime spot of the city. During 2017 Taipei Summer Universiade, it will showcase Basketball, Athletics and Badminton events.

Taipei Stadium

Taipei Stadium was completed in 1956. Rebuilding began in February 2007 and after two and a half years the stadium officially reopened on 23 July 2009. The first event to be staged inside the new stadium was the 2009 Taipei Deaflympics. Facilities include a 400-meter athletics track and a football pitch (with stands holding up to 21,000 people) and a 300-meter warm-up track. It also has an underground car park with space for 281 cars. In 2009, the stadium received Grade 1 certification from the International Association of Athletics Federation (IAAF), the 54th stadium in the world to receive such a grade and the second to do so in Chinese Taipei. The football pitch also meets international specifications.

The stadium is a standard green building and has won the Gold Medal Award (the highest award awarded by the Public Construction Commission of the Executive Yuan) for both construction and design. The building's environmentally friendly design means it takes in as much natural light as possible and has continuous natural ventilation, thus saving energy and reducing carbon emissions. The design concept is that of a winged, flying building. The stadium complements the nearby Taipei Arena. Together with Songshan Sports Center and Taipei Gymnasium, it forms part of Taipei Sports Park, an important city center landmark.

Since the Deaflympics, operations at the stadium have developed in three directions: staging major local and international sports events, training athletes and serving as a public venue for leisure and sport. The stadium will also be the athletics competition venue at the 2017 Taipei Summer Universiade. Diversified development combining sports, leisure, training, competition and tourism will unlock the full potential of the stadium.

Taipei Arena

At the end of 2000, the decision was made by the city government to build a multi-purpose sports hall, seating 15,000. Construction of the Taipei Arena took four and a half years and the arena was officially opened on 1 December 2005. This is a reinforced concrete building with five levels above ground and two below, and a total floor area of 90,900 square meters. The main space is 76 meters long and 41.5 meters wide. When the extendable seats are fully extended, the space measures 60 meters by 29.5 meters.

The main building contains lounges and offices, all of which can be used interchangeably by competitors, support staff and administrative staff. It is this flexibility which makes the stadium eligible to hold Grade 1 International Sports Federation competitions. It is also a popular venue for performance artists from home and abroad and it has served as venue for both NBA Global Games and large-scale pop concerts. The Taipei Arena has been designated as the venue for the Universiade basketball competition.

can also be used for a variety of activities by the general public.

Taipei Gymnasium

Taipei Gymnasium, a multi-function indoor sports hall, was completed in 1994. The main structure is seven stories high and there is an underground car park for up to 161 cars. The first, fourth and seventh floors are used for ball sports and combat sports.

The convenient location of this well-equipped gymnasium makes it a common choice as venue for major domestic and international sports competitions, such as the High School Basketball League, the Chinese Taipei Open Grand Prix Gold (badminton) and figure roller skating competitions. The gymnasium has been designated as the venue for the Taipei Universiade badminton competition.

A single floor in the gymnasium can accommodate 1,500-2,300 people at once. The gymnasium has special maple wood floors for sporting competitions. In addition to competitions, the gymnasium

28 WUCs in 22 Countries

An Overview of the Most Important FISU Activities in 2014

By Christian Pierre, FISU Press Officer

2014 being an even-numbered year, traditionally announces itself as a 'World University Championship'- year for FISU where the focus lies on single-sport events next to the traditional multi-sport Winter and Summer Universiades that are FISU's key events in the uneven-numbered years. Indeed, this year no less than 28 single-sport events were scheduled in 22 countries spread over four continents. An even year also means the organization of the FISU Forum. The 12th edition took place in Gwangju, Korea. Furthermore, FISU launched 'Lausanne in Motion' and opened the bidding for the 2018 WUCs and 2021 Universiades.

28 WUCs in 22 Countries

It was in the Ugandan heat of Entebbe that 42 female and 61 male student-athletes ran their best in the 19th World University Cross-Country Championship to bring home the first World University Champion titles of 2014. On a demanding course, at an altitude of 1,200 meters and under a leaden African sun, Winneie Nanyondo pocketed the gold in 20:33:77 followed by her fellow countrywomen Dorcus Ajok (21:01:85) and Prim Twikiriza (21:06:14). For the team competitions, the two first places were easily attributed to Uganda, having held the three first places, and Japan, its three competitors arriving right after at the 4th, 5th and 6th places. For the third place Canada beat South Africa with a total of 38, placing a third continent on the podium. In the men's competition it was once again the host country which excelled in the individual event. Joshua Cheptegei (31:06:71) finished the race 6 seconds ahead of his first Kenyan opponent Daniel Muindi (31:12:79) after an intense battle throughout the race. The podium of the men's individual race was then completed by another Kenyan athlete, Mark Lokwanamoi (32:33:26) finishing more than a minute behind his two opponents. In the team ranking, Kenya, having placed its four best athletes between the second and fifth place, took the gold, with the host country coming second marking a total of 29 while Japan won its second medal of the day with the bronze and 47 points. This 19th edition of the FISU WUC Cross Country concluded on a positive note as well as excellent statistics. With 18 participating countries coming from the five continents including 8 African countries – a WUC record – and medals distributed to three different continents, the universality of cross country is once again demonstrated.

In total, 75 universities were represented during this event. This Championship was also a historical one for two countries, i.e. France becoming the only country to have attended all previous editions of the WUC Cross Country since its creation in 1978 and Oman having for the first time participated in the event. The next edition, the 20th FISU World University Cross Country Championship will take place in Cassino (ITA), in 2016.

The 12th World University Triathlon Championship

took place on Sunday 20 April, in Brasília (DF). With five medals for Team USA, the Americans surely dominated the podium of this year's edition. Around 50 athletes from 12 countries and regions (Australia, Brazil, United States, Slovakia, Great Britain, Singapore, Chinese Taipei, Hungary, Switzerland, Turkey, Japan, and Czech Republic) completed the race, swimming in the Paranoá Lake, crossing the famous JK Bridge and racing the streets of Brazil's capital. With the sun shining during the whole event and temperatures around 27°/29°C, Kevin McDowell (USA) won the men's competition with a time of 2:03:38, followed by Tomas Renc (CZE), with 2:04:00 and Chris Branden (USA), with 2:04:33. Kevin McDowell was a silver medallist at the 2010 Youth Olympic Games, held in Singapore. This is his first competition after successfully battling cancer. "I am amazed for my return to the competition, after a long time away from it, because of health issues. My teammates gave me all the support to be here. This victory means a lot, more than the Olympic medal. This WUC medal marks a turning point in my career", said Kevin. In the Women's competition Zsofia Kovacs (HUN) has participated for the last time in a WUC and says goodbye to the University competition with a golden farewell. The athlete won the race with a time of 2:16:04. Heather Sellars (GBR) came in second, with 2:16:31 while Kaitlin Donner (USA) clocked 2:18:02 ranking third. In the Team's competition, the United States ruled the podium once more. The Americans won the women's and men's event. Great Britain finished in second in the women's team competition, followed by Japan. While in the men's team competition, the podium was completed by Czech Republic, in second and once again Japan in third. The WUC in Brasilia was the first test event for the 2019 Summer Universiade. It was hosted during the city's 54 years anniversary celebration. The next edition will take place in Nyon, Switzerland, in 2016.

From 1 to 11 May, 2014, the inaugural edition of the FISU World University American Football Championship took place in Uppsala, Sweden. Five nations participated in the first edition of this international student-athletes competition on the gridiron, i.e. China, Finland, Japan, Mexico and host Sweden. The championship was dominated by Japan and Mexico. Both teams placed themselves for the finals without a loss. After a real 'Clash of Titans', Team Mexico maintained undefeated throughout the tournament beating Japan 14-6 and capturing the historic gold medal. Host Sweden succeeded in beating arch rivals Finland in the bronze medal game 28-6. The 2nd edition of the FISU WUC American Football will be hosted in Monterey, Mexico in 2016.

The Poomsae competition at the 13th WUC Taekwondo in Hohhot, China was dominated by the host country winning three gold and two silver medals. In the Kyorugi competition the majority of medals went to Asian athletes from Korea, Chinese Taipei, Japan and Thailand. Other countries on the podium were France, Philippines, Turkey, Brazil, USA, Mexico, Egypt, Poland, Cyprus, Spain, Indonesia and Russia.

The 6th WUC Floorball in Singapore came to an end on 22 June after a successful five days which drew in a record-breaking 15,297 spectators as well as the participation of 16 teams from 10 countries. Sweden swept past all opponents to claim gold in both male and female categories of the tournament, with the men doing so in dominant form. Switzerland and Finland took silver in the men's and women's tournament, while Finland and Switzerland took the bronze. Next edition in 2016 goes to Porto, Portugal.

The 9th WUC Karate took place in Bar, Montenegro from 19 to 22 June, 2014. Sixteen championship titles were at stake while Japan (5G/1S/2B) and Iran (3G/1S/4B) proved to be the biggest medal

'guzzlers' of the tournament. A total of 23 countries saw their student-athletes mount the medal podium: JPN, IRI, EGY, SVK, FRA, BLR, MKD, MNE, HUN, MAS, LUX, AUT, CRO, BRA, GBR, BUL, ITA, FIN, SRB, MEX, AZE, CZE & TUR. The next edition of this FISU WUC will be hosted in Braga, Portugal in 2016.

Spain dominated the team competition at the 15th WUC Golf in Crans-Montana, Switzerland (23-27 June) as the Spanish student-golfers took the gold in both the men's and women's competition. Tiffany Chang (HKG) and Gerardo Ruiz (MEX) ruled the standings in the women's and men's individual competitions on the difficult 'Ballesteros' course. Besides Mexico and Hong Kong, medals also went to Malaysia, Spain, France, Japan, USA and Czech Republic. The 16th WUC Golf will take place in Brive-La-Gaillarde, France.

The 10th WUC Archery in Legnica, Poland gathered the biggest number of student-archers in the history of this competition. 206 students-athletes competed in Legnica. This 10th edition finished with the Korean archers dominating the medal podium. The traditionally strong archers of Korea took home 7 medals (4G/2S/1B). EUSA nowadays counts 45 members – national university sports entities and besides the national university sport federations links universities, teams, individual competitors, volunteers and other partners throughout Europe.

EUSA is the licensing body for the European Universities Championships and European Universities Games, which are organised in alternating years. Besides coordinating and supervising competitions in 19 sports, EUSA is also pursuing and carrying out several projects and social responsibilities programmes, supported by the European Union and FISU. We are also very proud of the growing network of partners and joint projects and initiatives. The projects range from anti-doping, volunteering, prevention of sexualised violence, youth employment etc. Promotion of Fair play and equal opportunities is very important to us, so we are very proud to have received the 2014 European Fair Play Plaquet of Merit and Diploma
